It would afford me much gratification to attend a mass meeting in the State of Kentucky at this crisis of our public affairs; but as our annual election comes off abolts he same period, I shall be deprived of the pleasure of being with you.

The contest in which we are now engaged is so important to the future welfare of our common country, that we are much gratified to see the izens of our sister States waking up to the true ondition of our national affairs.

The citizens of the eastern counties of Pennsyl-

To the Democratic Meeting at Lexington.

Letter from John G. Davis.
Rockville, Ind., Sept. 27, 1855.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter inviting me to attend a meeting of the Democracy of Kentucky, "in open unsworn council" at Lexington, on the 5th of next mouth.

I thank you for the invitation thus extended to me, and beg leave to assure you that nothing I thank you for the invitation thus extended to me, and beg leave to assure you that nothing would be more gratifying to my feelings, nor afford me greater pleasure, than to meet with the national Democracy of my native State on that occasion; and much to my regret, other duties and prior engagements compel me to forego the pleasure.

No patriot can louger stand by and witness with indifference the fierce assaults which are now being made against the Constitution, and the civil and religious rights of the people, by the most intolerant and unserupulous combination of isom, which we should ever had a transient or permanent existence in this country; and never before, it seems to me, has the necessity been so strong for good and true me everywhere to act—and to act decidedly, openly, and promptly.

A secret, midnight, oath bound conclave, acting in concert with political Abolitionists and intolerant religious bigots, are actively seeking the power of the reverbence of the covernment, and the everthere of the covernment, and the covernment and the verythere of the covernment and the verythere of the covernment and the verythere of the covernment, and the covernment and the verythere of the covernment of the religious bigots, are actively seeking the power.

Japanese Treaty.

Onr readers will recollect the celebrated expedition of Commodore Perry to Japan, and the great exploit in the way of a treaty performed by it. Japan was supposed to be opened to the commerce of the world, and the Japanese thereby introduced into the common fraternity. Mr. Fillmore originated the project of an expedition to that remote corner of the world, and I'resident Pierce carried it ont. It was not settled which was entitled to the glory of the achievement, but as there was glory enough in the affair for two Presidents, it was divided between them; plenty for both.

A comparison is made of the British with the French attack on the Malakoff, the latter of which have preceded by the the Course mat with a rewas successful, while the former met with a re-pulse. The French General, having the means, crowded immense masses of men into the Malakoff till the Russians were exhausted with destroying them. Continuous heavy columns of French troops pressed in, so that retreat was impossible for those who entered, and dislodging them without destroy-ing them was not to be effected. The, English on the other hand, made the attack on the Redan with a slim column of only 1800 men, and the com-mander neglected to provide or failed to send reserves of support when the attacking column so greatly needed them. The most complete and par-alyzing confusion ensued. The Russians recovered from their first surprise, and furiously drove the struggling British out at the point of the bay-onet. The English trenches were twice or thrice as far from the point to be assailed as the French, and were so narrow and inconvenient that the troops assembled in them were so crowded as to render the preservation of order atterly impossible. Roiterated remonstrances had been made by the French commanders on the ground of the danger and impolicy of not pushing the san close up to ing about and impolicy of not pushing the sap close up to the ditch, but in vain.

It is convenient to have a scape-goat to bear others' errors; Simpson, like Ragian, is suffering in this way. It has been clearly demonstrated in the present war that the failures of the British, that he had and are are owing to a bud system. both on land and sea, are owing to a bad system, and a bad administration at home. Generals and Admirals are sent ont with means totally inadequate to accomplish the result expected, and when they fail, as fail they must, a great clamor is raised against the unfortunate leaders, with a view of diverting attention from the real causes of the want of success. Incapacity is as much manifest in the British Government at home as it is in its

How Know-Nothingism Appears in Europe.

EMIGRATION NO CUESE.—Soon after the American Revolution was organized, the secret Cincin-

Its progress is watched, and eagerly heralded by journals advocating royal and priestly prerogatives, since it affords a common ground of the strike absolute the same of the strike of semicontains. hostility abroad, alike to the spirit of emigration and the benefits of free institutions. What is Know-Nothingism but the extended development of the ideas

Is this the genius of our constitutional govern tively listening to the vainly sareastic words that flowed from the lips of Mr. Marigny, when a dastardly villain, a brute in human shape, atrack him unaware, with his fist, and felled him to the ground.

Know-Nothingism, as a secret organization onght the sole aim to separate and unite the foreign, from the home element of our population, the good of the whole country demands should rather be amalgamated and comented.

Its ostonsible principles, however correct and laudable, mnst sooner or later be mingled with every species of political intolerance and villainy, too glad to hide their deformities under the garbon functions. And is not this pride the best guarantee of their attachment? During my journey through most of Germany this summer, I have met many persons, of all classes, who evinced unusual familiarity and interest in recent political movements at home, and who almost invariably acquainted me of the spread of the new party, and of their own opinions conof the new party, and of their own opinions concerning it, which, on comparison, I found to be singularly unanimous. Emigration, they say, is being checked, and, indeed, many are returning back; that we err in supposing that we have received only "the seum" of their population; that, on the contrary, among the German emigrants have been as good representatives as Europe could send us, in point of education, industry, and talent, although naturally not of wealth and titles, sincet though naturally not of wealth and titles, since to improve their condition was the object of the sacri-fices they have made; that we overlook the physiological fact, that the amalgamation of differe population in generations to come, with which that portion of simply English descent will not be com-parable. Who will undertake to predict the issue, when considered in relation to the noble free education and free thought of America? I have attempted to reply, that Know-Nothingism is but a temporary party, which, having rapidly sprung np, must as rapidly decline; and that it was prin-cipally directed against the powor now centralized in the hands of Roman Catholic priests and demagognes, which has wielded such influence in con-trolling our elections; and that it was not so much tho Germans as the Irish, with their shameful ig-

And is it not to be hoped that medieval darkness has disappeared before the glorious rising of the sun of Bible truth, and that the age is now past, when a man is to be persecuted for conscience sake, and least of all, in republican America? I apprehend we have little to fear from the influence and spread of a religion like Catholicism, which has never found a permanent lodgment in Anglo-Saxon soil, and never can; and which now is compelled to "propagate and rot" in such lands as Italy and Spain; and which another century of intellectnal development in America bids fair to obliterate. A recent census exhibits a bids fair to obliterate. It was rumored at Lexington, Mo., yesterday, that Gov. Reeder had been murdered, at St. Josephs, but it is pronounced a hoax. The editor of the Lexington Express says that Gov. Reeder has been fighting, but is not injured.

BUFFALO, Oct. 18. There is fresh trouble on the Brantford Railroad. A body of armed Irishmen tore down the bridge yesterday, and will not allow the trains to pass. They made an attempt to-day, also, to stop the train on the upper side of the bridge, going west. More difficulties anticipated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. The steamship Maury was seized in this port yesterday, on suspicion of having been fitted out as a privateer to sail under Russian colors. PITTSBURG, Oct. 18.

Col. Daniel McCurry, a well-known druggist, formerly a prominent leader of the American party, was found drowned, in the river, at the point, to-day. ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC.

NEW YORK, Oct 18.

The steamship Atlantic was announced at Sandy Hook at 6 o'clock this morning, and reached dock at half-past 8 o'clock. at half-past 8 o'clock.

She brings intelligence that the Russians were defeated near Eupatoria by the French cavalry, with a loss of 50 killed and 105 taken prisoners.

The French lost 6 killed and 27 wounded. Prince Gortschakoff reports, on the 3d of Octo-ber, that an inoffectual movement had been made

The allied fleet had sailed on a secret expedition, supposed to be directed against Nicolaieff and Odessa.

The Emperor is at Odessa. He has issued an encouraging address to the Russian people, and will shortly be in the Crimea.

A collision is anticipated between the western powers of the King of Greece, on account of the Russian propensities of the latter.

The food question is still a matter of serious import, both in France and Germany. The southern portion of Sevastopol is to be slown up by the allies, and mines are now being sunk for the purpose.

KEEPS CONSTANTLY ON HAND

We have Democratic victories, and we have Republican victories;—but Know-Nothing victories, where are they? Election follows election, and in turn brings encouragement and joy to all other parties, but to the Know-Nothings, each leaves behind nothing but cold disappointment. "Sam" is no longer the character he was. He has had lesses, and he feels it. He swaggers no more. Trouble has made him prematurely old—sent him already into the sixth age, and the big manly voice we heard so much of last year is "turning again toward childish treble." People look at him and shake their heads, and prophesy that he is not long for this world. His best friends no longer feel the pride in him they did. They are loth to sainte him with his oid pet name; and almost all their talk of him now is in an interceding, deprecating, strain. Times have changed bitterly with "Sam" within the last twelve month.

When have Democratic victories, and we have lessioned and third rate, and common, which is an desirous of selling oal in large lots, at much reduced reprice for cash or good paper. I keep, also, all kinds of rotals reduced reprice for cash or good paper. I keep, also, all kinds of rotals reduced reprice for cash or good paper. I keep, also, all kinds of rotals reduced reprice for cash or good paper. I keep, also, all kinds of rotals reduced r within the last twelve month.

It is a notable reverse of fortune indeed, but not, like many others, the result of chance or accident. The main cause of it has been—folly. The Know-Nothings have misjudged and mismanaged egregiously. They have committed the fatal error of trusting to mere mechanism for success—of believing that a system of secret organization which gave them their original impulse, was sufficient of itself to maintain them in position. Last year the Know-Nothing Order was a new thing. It had the charm of novelty, and the advantage also of appealing to a widely diffused anti-foreign feeling. Its secret affiliation gave it compactness, discipline, and strength, and enabled it, especially when siding as it usually did with the anti-Nebraska sentiment, to effect great triumphs. But these triumphs it in no case turned to any practical purpose. It as it usually did with the anti-Nebracka aentiment, to effect great triumphs. But these triumphs it in no case turned to any practical purpose. It established no new measure, and carried out no definite change of policy. It spent its energies in hidden intrigues, and undertook to satisfy the people with high-sounding generalities, of no practical account whatever. It resisted the appeals of great numbers of its well-wishers to abolish its oaths, divest itself of its secret character, and rest its claims solely upon defined principles and rendered reasons. It was asked in vain to give a shape to its declarations, that should furnish a guaranty ngainst prescription and intolerance in matters of religion, and it habitually indulged itself in stirring up sectarian prejudice and animosity. This disposition no sooner beckme a settled and an understood thing, than the consequences were at once predicted. Every dispassionate, reflecting man, knew that it was impossible to give any such organization the status of a permanently powerful party. It might call itself

"American" in name, but it was essentially unAmerican in form, in spirit, and in operation.

The two first requisites in the movement of republican government, are freedom of volition, and publicity of action, and it was by the direct contravention of these that the Order undertook to succeed. Know-Nothingism could not remain popular. Every election through the present year has shown most unmistakably that it has forfeited public confidence. All sections alike repudiate it. At the West it has hardly dared of late to show its head. In the South, in spite of its ap peal to sectional jealousy by holding out the prospect of injuring the North by cutting down the immigration which has so much promoted the growth of the North, it has been beaten by overwhelming majorities, in spite of its having cullsgrowth of the North, it has been beaten by over-whelming majorities, in spite of its having enlisted into its service almost the entire body of the old Whig party. And at the North, where the evil effects of our present system of naturalization have been the most felt, the Order has nowhere achieved an independent victory, and the latest elections have shown that it is not only importent itself, but that all alliance with it is fatal. In the only two important contests which are now going on, that of New York and of Massachusetts, it is compelled to fight alone and unaided, and without the slightest reasonable hope of success. Nowhere is there a chance of its retrievcess. Nowhere is there a chance of its retriev

Success. Nowhere is there a chance of its retrieving itself.

Though the Know-Nothing organization has not made, and may not make, as such, any permanent impress upon the legislation of the country, yet its existence has, on the whole, been a public good. It has aroused the public mind all over the country to a wholesome jealousy of a banded foreign vote, and has made it a losing business for demagogues to court that vote in the cajoling and truckling spirit they once did. It has made the immigrants themselves better understand the tenure on which they hold their American franchises and principles, and taught them the necessity of more care to assimilate themselves with the Americans in thought, and feeling, and action. We doubt whether it will tend to any modification of the naturalization laws, or to any vory important acts of State legislation, for the growing unpopularity of the Order will materially prejudice all measures associated with it; yet the improved state of public opinion, in regard to the relations of our foreign-born population, will have diminished in some degree the necessity for these legislative correctives. The American people generally condemn the shape of the organization and its mode of action, more than they do the move it no particular grudge except for what it has made itself. It has been its own worst enemy.—N. Y. Cour. d. Enq.

The Preparatory and Auxiliary Sciences and Literature of the Law-Rhetone and Logic, including especially Terminology, Definition, Abstraction, Generalization, Division, and Argamentation, and the Ethics, which, naving been the basis, supplies the dencienciation the fullures and exactness of the positive provisions of every law-constituting together this separate department, but discussed in the study, to a greater or less extent, of every branch of jurisprudence.

11. History-studied briefly in its own department, but continually in connection with the Civil Law, the Common Law of England and America, the Urganic and International Law, and with the arbitrary portions of every other head of jurisprudence in the organic.

11. The Urganic Law of Government. It is proper to mention that this high head of Law is not passed over here in the ordinary mode. It is discussed and studied, not only abstractedly, on the sefect-dent axions and the proposition of the arbitrary Law, but in the examples of the diversible forms of Government which have been and are now existent. Its course is, however, commenced and terminated in exercises upon our own Constitutions and Statutory Organic Law, and the history of the origin, formations, revolutions, mutations, and extensions of our own Government. Everything obtained elsewhere is appropriated in this course the illustration, analysis, and synthetic discussion of our own system.

RAILROAD! THIS GREAT WORK OF INTERnai Improvement (479 miles from Wheeling to Baltimore, and 485 to Washington,) was opened to the thio river in Jannary, 1933, and has now been fully seted and approved, both as a freight and passenger oute. This road is located in a romantic country, is olidly constructed, fally equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractive as well as as as as ince for travelers. The late completion of the clentral Otho Road, from Columbus to the Otho river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance of this route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Kailroad connection with the entire West.

connection with the entire West.

THE ONLY THROUGH TICKETS BETWEEN LOUISVILLE AND THE NATIONAL METROPOLIS are sold by this road, which runs direct to Washington without the delay of passing through Baltimore. It is also the only line by which baggage can be checked to Washington from the West. At Baltimore the road makes a direct connection with the Kairroad to Philadelphia and New York, &c.
Passengers going East from Louisville, may proceed by steamboat to Cincinnati, and there take the Kailroad to connect with this line, or may leave Louisville by the Jeffersonylile Kailroad direct.
